CHARGES MINES SELL SLATE WITH THE COAL

Operators to Have Chance to Answer Miner.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Mine operators were given opportunity Monday by the coal strike settlement commission to respond to the demands presented by miners' spokesmen last week for the rectification of certain wage differentials. The miners' demands, which are additional to the requests for a general wage increase and the 30-hour week, were met by Tracy L. Guthrie for Western Pennsylvania operators, with the assertion that they merely amounted to methods of raising wages by indirect methods.

Thomas T. Brewster for the Illinois operators, C. A. Magner for Ohio and Paul H. Quinn for Indiana, agreed with Mr. Guthrie's assertion. Ed Stewart, president of the Indiana Miners' Union, replying to Guthrie's remarks, incidentally brought in the charge that certain Indiana mines were accustomed to sell as coal, impurities and slag mixed along with the burnable product. President Robinson of the commission agreed to allow a defense of the charge to be made by the companies mentioned before closing the record, hearings will be continued today.

DEE ADMITS HAND IN PORTLAND BREAKS

Recently Released From the Maine State Prison.

Portland, Me., Jan. 20.—Francis Dee, aged 36, recently released from the State Prison, confessed to a series of breaks in Portland residences, is identified by Miss Katherine A. Murray as the man who fled after entering her room. A large quantity of loot has been recovered by inspectors. White and Lorraine, who searched his room. He entered Miss Murray's room Sunday morning using keys she had recently left in her door. She drew a revolver, refusing to accept his protest of her keys, with excuse that he had found them. He ran at sight of the weapon and she fired as he raced down the stairs, but the bullet missed him. He was arrested Monday on her description.

He admitted later his complicity in important breaks that have been baffling the police. Search of his room revealed a great quantity of jewelry, coins, fountain pens, watches, papers and such valuables as he might conceal in his pockets after overhauling a room. Two equally important identified as having been stolen from a music store, are the only articles found that did not come from a residence. Watches, valued at $100 and $199, stolen from the hotel suite occupied by Dr. Adam P. Leighton, valuables from the residence of J. B. Phillips, Thomas street, and Lewis K. Austin of Deering street, and articles of more or less worth, ownership yet to be ascertained, were in his collection. Dee has been mixed up in such affairs for 10 years when not serving time. He is most prepossessing in appearance, and influential men interested themselves in his behalf. He was able to refrain from intervening only for brief periods and at last they gave up a despatch and he was sent to the state prison several years ago. There he learned automobile painting and was employed at that trade here for the past few months.

John Pittman chief radio operator at navy yard, has been transferred to Harbor, Me.

Europe Should Not Be Coddled.

Multiplying evidence proves that the idea is growing that it is time for the United States to begin to take in sail to some extent in the matter of extending aid to foreign countries suffering from the effects of the war. This paper has recently called attention to the statements of two men, one of whom was a Knights of Columbus war worker, to the effect that help has been given so lavishly that some of the nations appear to have an idea that this country has assumed the burdens of the world and is able and willing to carry them. One of these men plainly intimated that some of the nations are inclined to "lie down" on the United States and disinclined to do what they should be doing for themselves.

And now comes further evidence to the same effect. This is from Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance Corporation, who in an address in New York a few nights ago before the American Manufacturers' Export Association took sharp exception to the views of Sir George Paish, a British financial expert now in this country, who contends that it is the duty of America to give Europe enormous credits to aid in its rehabilitation. Mr. Meyer said that when he listened to the discussions of this subject from the other side of the water, in which we are told what we should do, what we haven't done and what we must do, he wondered if it is realized what we have done during the past year. Mr. Meyer said further: "I feel that the people of Europe have had such a reliance on us, a reliance which we have met so bountifully and so generously during the war and for the past year, that they are deluded into the idea that this is a country with no limit to its resources of material, money and credit."

Mr. Meyer did not say this is not a time for the use of credit, but he thought that in advancing credit more care should be taken than has been exercised in the past. He said the country could afford to take risks during the war, but it should cease taking them now. He thought the business should be brought down to a business basis, and another speaker added that aid for the reconstruction of Europe should now be extended by American investors and not by the government.

These views are worthy of attention. While all are willing that this country should do everything reasonable for the rehabilitation of European nations, the feeling is growing that it is time to place the work on a business basis and to discourage the idea that the United States is a country with "no limit to its resources of material, money and credit," and that those inclined to "lie down" on American generosity should be awakened to the fact that the time limit for this sort of thing is up.

Notwithstanding all the country has done for foreign sufferers it is ready and willing to do more, but the call for reducing the business to a business basis deserves attention. Where charity is actually needed it will not be withheld, but it is not too early for the European nations to begin to realize that they must ultimately stand on their own feet, and to be showing a disposition to do it.

Out of the turmoil there is occasionally flashed a cheering piece of news, as, for instance, the announcement that the strike of the men in New York who sell their blood for transfusion purposes has ended and that the men have "gone back to work."

A big deal in the publishing world was consummated when the New York Herald and its Paris edition and the New York Evening Telegram passed into the possession of Frank A. Munsey, the famous publisher. But the name of James Gordon Bennett, the founder of the Herald, will live long in the history of American journalism.

Henry H. Bodenshtab, who was the opponent of Victor Berger, would now like the seat in Congress which has been denied to the Milwaukee Socialist. It is not likely that he will receive the honor, but it seems he thought it worth while to make a "stab" at it.

Under the state law of Illinois owners of liquors could not move them from their places of storage to their homes. They must wonder what has become of the "concurrent action" clause.

How far out of the way was the speaker who in Chicago recently said that "money or prices do not go up or down, but are put up or down?"

Governor Clement of Vermont says many of the small towns of that state are on the verge of bankruptcy. The country has apparently been traveling too fast for the little fellows during the last few years.

It is said the cost of the wool in a man's average suit is $5.25. And yet the price of clothing is steadily going up. What's the trouble?

DEMOCRATS
FOR LINE-UP

Jameson Not a Candidate for the National Convention.

Hon. John B. Jameson is not a candidate for delegate to the democratic national convention at San Francisco. Mr. Jameson has been a delegate to two national conventions, and while his name has been frequently mentioned during the past few weeks as one of the men who might be selected by New Hampshire democrats to represent them at San Francisco, he insists he is not a candidate.

Mr. Jameson made his debut in N. H. politics as a delegate to the Kansas City convention. Representative William J. Ahern was also a delegate to that convention.

Leading democrats are taking a keen interest in the preliminary for the nomination of a candidate for president. Delegates to the constitutional convention, who talk a little politics on the side in the Eagle lobby, said the organization ticket for delegates will be something like this:

For delegates at large—Eugene B. Reed, James P. Brennan, Charles B. Tilton, Robert C. Murchie.

From District No. 1—Gordon Woodbury, Joseph Chetel.

From District No. 2—Robert Jackson, Raymond B. Stevens.

Former Mayor William H. Barry of Nashua on a recent visit to Concord took out blanks at the secretary of state's office in the interest of former Councilor Albert W. Nease of Peterboro, who he stated would file his name for delegate-at-large, with a ticket opposing the organization ticket. Mr. Barry was on a trip around the state in the interest of the Nease ticket.

Granite State democrats of interest are not committed to any candidate for the presidency, but some are apparently in favor of Herbert Hoover.

RADICALS GIVEN
RECEPTION
IN FINLAND

(By Associated Press)

Torjoki, Finland, Monday, Jan. 19.—Radicals who were deported from the United States were given what might be termed an official reception just outside of this village today. In the crowd that greeted Alexander Berdman, Emma Goldman and other "communists" was M. Zorlen, member of the all Soviet executive committee, who after a brief conference with Berdman agreed to permit the whole party to enter Bolshevik Russia. "There is no question they will be welcomed in Russia," said M. Zorlen, "we will give them work according to their professions and trades, but first we must provide them with comfortable homes and feed them well." Madam (Lark), wife of the prominent Russian novelist said when she met the deportees, "Russia opens her arms to all who are politically persecuted."

Conditions have considerably improved in Petrograd according to M. Zorlen who said everything there was getting 1-4 pounds of bread per day. There is comparatively little idleness and wood and fuel are more abundant making life more pleasant than heretofore. The greatest difficulty had been experienced in getting coal to operate the factories but recently as a result of improved transport some had been brought up from the south.

HUGHES APPEARS
FIGHT

(By Associated Press)

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20.—The Assembly Judiciary Committee which is trying the five suspended Socialist members refused at the opening of the trial here today to note the appearance of the New York State Bar Association headed by Charles E. Hughes which asked to be received in the interest of the public. Soon after the opening of the trial Lewis M. Martin read a statement which asserted that the Assembly had learned "through various channels" that the defendants were members of a party whose platform demanded "complete destruction of our form of government by the formation of industrial armies, the bringing into action of force and violence and direct action by the masses." The committee's statement also charged that the defendants "are with others engaged in a large and well organized conspiracy" to destroy the right to own private property, to weaken the family, to destroy the church and overturn the whole fabric of a constitutional form of government.

EXPLAINS A MYSTERY

(From the London Post)
A discussion had been in progress

about our difficulties with America, and the return of Viscount Grey. All had put forward theories and then turned to the quiet man in the big arm-chair near the smoking room fire. "Why are you worrying?" he asked. "I know he could not stay out there long; he missed his squirrel." "Squirrels," said everyone. "Yes," was the response, "you see he has a wood in the Northumberland full of wild squirrels. They find out when he is at home and make their way to the house, scale the walls, and invade the library; then, jumping upon his writing table, are fed with nuts from his hand." This is a curious explanation of a diplomatic mystery.

DON'T EXPECT TO GET EX-KAISER

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Jan. 20.—Disbelief that the efforts of the Allies to get former Emperor William out of Holland would prove successful was expressed today by Baron Herz von Lersner, German chief representative here. "I am absolutely sure the Dutch government will never surrender the former German emperor for trial on charges which are not provided for in any constitution, any laws or any treaties regarding extradition," Baron von Lersner said. With regard to the expected demand for the extradition of German subjects for trial for acts committed during the war, the German plenipotentiary declared himself certain that public sentiment "in every country" was against such a demand.

AN UNNECESSARY LAW

Among the bushels of petitions submitted to the legislature is one making the tenure of a county commissioner six years instead of three.

The argument in favor is probably that county commissioners want the lengthened term. Surely the people are not interested in the plan for county commissioners are so far removed from them that it is doubtful whether more than one or two could correctly name the county board or tell when the term of office of any one of the members expires.

A greater improvement than the lengthening of terms, from an economic standpoint, would be to subdivide the county management of county roads, bridges and institutions.

Anyway there is no need of officially lengthening the terms. Whenever a man obtains the office he holds it indefinitely. Who can remember when attention so focused on the office that there was an enforced change in the Essex county commission?

MEMBERSHIP
CONCLUDED

The Golden Rule Circle of King's Daughters held a gathering of interest last evening in the Baptist Annex and celebrated the completion of its one hundred membership campaign with a large attendance and interesting features. It was the regular meeting of the Circle and the early part of the evening was devoted to business. The Circle now numbers 103, of the number 11 were admitted last evening and 37 members have joined since last October.

At the meeting devotional exercises formed a part and also the form of admittance for new members. The regular meeting concluded, the remainder of the evening was devoted to sociality. The initiation of new members then took place, this being for the purpose of entertainment and planned in a spirit of fun. First there was a test of the spiritual, mental and physical strength of the new members. For the spiritual each was called upon to recite a verse of scripture from memory; for her mental test she was asked to spell difficult words, and for the physical test four at a time of the new members had a rope pulling contest with four of the old members of the Circle, the new members winning. The members who failed had to pay a forfeit.

Refreshments of assorted sandwiches and cocoa were served, Mrs. J. J. Mac, Mrs. Wilbur H. Shaw and Miss Mac Clowen being in charge. The evening was filled with merriment and the newcomers as well as the old certainly enjoyed the occasion.

The next meeting of the Golden Rule Circle will be held on Monday afternoon, Feb. 3, at 2 p. m., at the Children's Home, when the members will sew for that institution.

APPRECIATES THE HERALD'S
ASSISTANCE

Managing Editor

Herald,

Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Sir:

In closing the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. I want to express to you our appreciation of the generous space accorded the activities in your columns, from the beginning of the war to the present time, even at periods when newspaper was scarce and space at a premium.

Had it not been for the full-hearted support of the New England press during the campaign periods, particularly, it would have been impossible to raise the large sums of money necessary to carry on warfare work among the troops in our cantonments and overseas.

Your co-operation has made it possible for us to give the New England people a vision of the gigantic task that was undertaken and the progress made in providing for the welfare, education and recreation of the American soldiers, sailors and marines.

Again thanking you both personally and on behalf of the War Work Council, I am
Very cordially yours,
John Kemble, Publicity Director, Northeastern Department.

THE AFTERMATH

Kingdoms are fallen, empires overthrown, Enslaved for centuries, the people rule in distant lands where freedom was unknown, Except within the shadow of a throne, Where king or emperor himself would school in the belief he could the people fool.

Throughout the world the spirit of unrest is much in evidence and daily grows. Among the hordes that think themselves oppressed. And would, because their privilege, Infer. All other peoples, who they think their foes, With their pernicious doctrines, which of course Are tenable but by the claw of force.

And, anarchy is active in the world, Opposing the existing state of things; The worst of human passions there are rife, In place from which the tyrant has been hurled, False liberty and license spring to life, The worst of human passions there are rife.

And now behold the many "isms" arise, Opposing the existing state of things; And too the "isms" which would assume the guise Of love of god and humanity, but brings The new new chains, even while de-basing kings.

The debts of nations mountain high appear, And have not even reached their zenith yet!

To meet all obligations, it is clear, Poverty, for many a long year, Will have to struggle the last coin to get!

And labor is demanding, more and more, Of capital the right to equal share, Or what they both produce, and would ignore.

The difference existing heretofore Between them, as a status too unfair, Insisting that the one who sweats and toils Should have an even share in all the spoils.

Between the upper and the nether stone The public is well squeezed and must endure Extortion, suffering, without a groan, For those great factors have the right alone—

Of that each one is vehemently sure— To settle matters which they can adjust, And wrangle over others, if they must.

Instead of order there is chaos here, His worse been seen in ages, centuries?

The great upheaval, which men thought would clear, The denseness of the social atmosphere Has left instead a world in some degrees

Never better than at time of famines! —J. E. MOORE.

FOSDICK GETS OUT OF LEAGUE

Embarrassed Because U. S.
Has Not Accepted It.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Raymond B. Fosdick, under-secretary general of the League of Nations and American representative in the league machinery so far, has resigned. Mr. Fosdick's friends say that inasmuch as the league has not been accepted by the United States he did not feel he could continue.

Mr. Fosdick announced his resignation in a cablegram to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general in which he said:

"Now that the League of Nations is no longer a provisional organization, but has become established as a going concern, the continued lack of decision as to America's course places me personally in a position of peculiar embarrassment."

"In order, therefore, to avoid any confusion or misunderstanding as to my position as under-secretary general of the league, it seems best for me to tender my resignation. I do this with deep regret because I do not like to appear to be abandoning those with whom I have been associated for the last few months just at the moment when their responsibilities and opportunities are becoming real."

"The league is now approaching the point where it can begin to carry out the world's hopes for disarmament, arbitration, the protection of backward people in the furthering of international health projects and all the other humanitarian issues upon which we have been working for the past six months. I feel sure, however, that you will appreciate the reasons which have led up to my decision and will recognize that if as an American I now feel forced to withdraw from official connection with the secretariat, it is not for lack of faith in the league."

Fosdick is a young lawyer who attracted national attention during the term of Mayor Gaynor by the manner in which he investigated the municipal finances. During the war he was chairman of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, and was appointed an under-secretary of the League of Nations by Sir Eric Drummond last May. He represented the league in the sessions of the International Labor conference in Washington last November.

The census enumerators are now engaged in recording the population of this city. Portsmouth has grown considerably since the last census was taken in 1910, and the result is of great interest to every resident. The last census gave us a population of 11,263. What is it today? Try your luck at guessing. The HERALD will award a ten dollar gold piece to the one coming the nearest in estimating the total population. Start today. ### If Thin and Nervous Try Viro-Phosphat

While scientific opinion is still divided as to the cause of thinness and nervousness, it is a well known fact that the lack of phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for the condition. Viro-Phosphat is a pure, natural, and easily assimilated source of phosphorus. It is a powerful stimulant and tonic, and is especially adapted for the treatment of thinness and nervousness. ## DRYDEN GETS DECISION OVER GARDNER

Bill Dryden secured his first victory over Pinkey Gardner at Freeman's hall on Monday evening, but it was a hard-fought battle. Gardner, being unable to come back after Dryden had hurtled him thru the air to a flying mare. It was a wicked loss and Gardner struck against the ropes so hard that it knocked him out and he fell in a heap to the stage and then rolled over on the floor. It was the fall to the floor that did the most damage, as his elbow was injured so that he would not go on again and it is feared that a small piece of bone has been broken off.

It was a typical Gardner-Dryden match, both men in good condition and both working for all they were worth. They wrestle clean and there is none of the rough stuff which is the stock in trade of many of the wrestlers. Gardner was the ruder picture of a perfect athlete, for he is about as magnificent built athlete as there is in the country. He was in perfect condition and looked none of his usual brilliancy.

Dryden while not as fast as formerly was in better condition and he was giving Gardner a fine battle. Gardner got the first fall in twenty-two minutes with a double arm bar, and they had wrestled for thirty odd minutes at top speed, when Dryden went out of the ring, but was not hurt. A second later he caught Gardner off guard and dropping to the floor hurled Gardner thru the air, he struck the ropes full across the small of his back and he dropped back to the mat all gone, and then rolled out onto the floor. It was some time before he could recover his breath and then he was groggy and complained of his left elbow. He was taken to the dressing room and Dr. Taylor who examined him advised him not to go back, as he feared that the bone of the elbow had been shattered, although it will require an X-ray to determine just how badly he is hurt. The match was forfeited to Dryden.

There was a big crowd present and they gave Dryden a noisy welcome back on the mat.

LOOKING THEM OVER WITH THE SPORT FAN

Much interest is being shown by the boxing fans here in the bout to be staged at Freeman's hall Wednesday night between Dusty Kroll of Portland and Young Garvin of Somersworth. Kroll will arrive in town sometime today. His last bout was a week ago when he knocked out Arlie Williams at Biddeford. Many Dover and Somersworth fans will accompany Young Garvin to this city and they are confident that the New Hampshire boy will give Dusty the surprise of his life.

Those who witnessed the wrestling match at Freeman's hall last evening between Bill Dryden and Pinkey Gardner agree that it was about the best thing in the wrestling line seen in Portsmouth for a long time. Most of the fans were of the opinion that if Pinkey had not been injured he would have won the second fall and the match.

The athletic committee of the American Legion of Dover is planning on having a boxing exhibition. The exhibition will be in conformity with the army and navy regulations. It is probable that Young Garvin of Somersworth and Tommy Riley of Biddeford will meet in the main bout. The date will be announced later.

Friday night at Manchester Bill Demetral will wrestle Sula Havommins of New York, and Joe Perrelli will go against Pat McCarthy in another bout.

Barthelme M. Nelson, formerly of Portsmouth, is to make another try at the boxing game and is scheduled to box Joe Barres of Boston at Manchester Thursday evening. Young Charles, also of Manchester, will go against Tommy Elias of Paterson.

Waldo Ketonen retained his title to the world's middleweight wrestling championship at Boston last night when he gained two falls from Mike Yokel, a former title holder. Yokel won the first fall in 42 minutes, but the champion took the next two in 17 minutes 30 seconds and two minutes 15 seconds, respectively.

Gardner, the Italian wrestler, had a soft time at Manchester last night and easily defeated Tom Letme, who substituted for Ivan Michaleff, who failed to put in an appearance.

Paul Pachler and Red Miller defeated Jim Whalen and Charles Gangi in a ten-string candlepin match at Revere, Mass Monday evening, 2275 to 2191. Red Miller established a world's record for a ten-string individual contest, losing 1208.

French Champion as He Looks Outside the Ring

"Gentleman Jim," they used to call James J. Corbett, conqueror of John L. Sullivan and heavyweight champion of the world. This photograph shows Georges Carpentier, idol of France and champion of Europe, who is to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's championship. In the French aerial service Carpentier displayed the same intelligence he showed in the ring while he fought his way up from champion-ship to championship—bantamweight to heavyweight. He met them all and lost only to Papke and Klaus, Americans who at the time he met them were veterans and he was only growing up.

BASKETBALL

The basketball five from Building 89 at the navy yard, the headquarters of all sporting activity, at the yard, are to play the Port McHenry team at Freeman's hall on Thursday evening of this week. The Building 89 team have won all the games they have played and they are getting enough confidence to go out after the big games. Their main ambition is to meet the Portsmouth professional team here sometime later in the season, that is if their games from now on allows them to retain their same good opinion of themselves.

Manager Henry Cragen has signed up the Dover basketball team to play here on Jan. 31 and it will be one of the toughest games of the season. The Dover team which won all of its games at the beginning are now meeting with defeat about as often as victory, but for all of that they are a good fast team.

The paper on which Bank of England notes is printed is so strong that when one of the notes is twisted into a rope it will sustain a weight of 358 pounds.

NASAL CATARRH

Though Very Common It is a Serious Disease—Worse at This Season.

It is an inflammation of the mucous membrane, causing a discharge, and is aggravated by colds and sudden changes of weather, but depends on an impure condition of the blood. When chronic it may develop into consumption by breaking down the delicate lung tissues and impairing the general health.

Begin treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla at once. This medicine purifies the blood, removes the cause of the disease, and gives permanent relief. It has been entirely satisfactory to three generations.

If a cathartic is needed (take Hood's Pills)—they cleanse the liver, regulate the bowels.

HERE IT IS

The allegations contained in the suit served on the Herald, will be read by reading the writ as published in full. The Herald dislikes to give up the space to it, but it feels that the Herald's readers are entitled to read it. THE STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Rockingham, N. H.

To the Sheriff of any county or his Deputy:

We command you to attach the goods or estate of Fernando W. Hartford of Portsmouth in said county, and the Herald Publishing Company, a corporation doing business at said Portsmouth, to the value of twenty thousand dollars, and summon them to appear in your precinct, to appear at the Superior Court to be holden at Exeter in said County of Rockingham on the first Tuesday of May, 1920, to answer to John H. Bartlett, of said Portsmouth, in a plea of the case for that the said defendants at said Portsmouth, N. H., on the 16th day of January, 1920, well knowing the indignation of the people of Portsmouth and vicinity at and over the malicious slanders and libels of the Boston American on the plaintiff, and against the plaintiff, and well knowing that the publications against the plaintiff, were and are false, and well knowing that they, the said defendants had prior thereto, on several times published attacks and scandalous matter against said plaintiff, and published that he the said plaintiff was one of a "bad ring" at said Portsmouth and that he intended to "show" them up and well knowing that he the said defendant had threatened in the said defendant's newspaper to publish 5000 words of attack on said plaintiff, and well knowing that a man in the employ of said defendants was and is the local correspondent of said libeling newspaper, the said Boston American, and with malice and intent to injure and defame said plaintiff further and to add to his humiliation and disgrace, did then and there publish and circulate the following false and scandalous meaning toward said plaintiff:

"THERE IS NO BETTER CITY in the world or better people than right here in Portsmouth and our citizens regret the unfortunate quarrel between one of our citizens and a Boston paper which has brought the fair name of old Portsmouth into question. As a representative of the people the Herald protests. This city will compare favorably with any other city. Portsmouth as a city will not suffer."

Meaning and intending to divert the hatred of the people of Portsmouth to said plaintiff by the false accusation that he had a quarrel with said Boston American when in truth and in fact he had no such quarrel whatsoever and had had no unkind words or friction of any sort with said Boston American, and said libel on said plaintiff, committed by said Boston American was entirely unprovoked by said plaintiff and entirely unexpected, and on the contrary was fostered by the previous wrongful publications of said defendants.

and further meaning and intending to convey the meaning and impression that said plaintiff Bartlett will suffer because he is not blameless, although the city is blameless; and said publication was intended to add to the damage to said plaintiff and to his humiliation and disgrace at a trying time; and said defendant Hartford then and there wrote a letter for publication to a Concord newspaper in which he used the word "lie" against said plaintiff Bartlett; and said defendants have furnished to said Boston American material with which they could fabricate a story of scandal and slander; and said plaintiff has a good reputation and character and has a right to enjoy the same and said libel and slander has injured his good name, humiliated him, caused him pain and anguish, in the presence of family and friends at a trying time in his family; and said libel will continue to injure and damage said plaintiff and cause him loss, all on account of the wilful and malicious false and scandalous publications of said defendants afore-said, in the damage of the plaintiff as he says the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

Witness, John Rivel, Esquire, the 15th day of January, 1920.

C. H. Knight, Clerk.
W. B. SHAW, Deputy Sheriff.

TROUBLE NEVER COMES SINGLE HANDED

Why Your Favorite Paper Was Late.

Trouble never comes single handed, they say, and really while some things can not be put down as trouble, the accident to the Herald's big news press on Tuesday evening was disturbing. No, there was nothing in the delay attributable to the suit. It was simply one of those unavoidable delays due to accident.

The Herald had installed new knives in the big machine—no, they were not carving knives or fighting knives—just ordinary printing press knives, that cut the paper as it winds through the big press from the immense rolls of paper. After all the labor the knives refused to do their work and there was much trouble and delay. All the trouble started when only 1500 papers had been run off and there were about 3000 more to run.

At 5 o'clock there was a stampede in the telephone exchange. Like a flash the immense switchboard was illuminated from one end to the other. It was a nerve racking time to the battery of bell girls and every line into the Herald office was kept flashing. "Hello," said the voices of thousands of Portsmouth's fair daughters. "Anything happened to the Herald?" "Nothing serious; only slight mishap to our big press." "Oh! I thought you were" (deleted by censor).

From every telephone in Portsmouth, South End and Kittery came the same query and back went the answer: "You will get your Herald, but it will be late."

To the operators at the telephone exchange we extend our thanks.

Was there ever a more loyal lot of carriers in New England than those serving the Herald? We say there isn't, and that army of newsmen—say, men, you might as well try to pry open the valve in our banks with a toothpick as to get one of these boys to desert their favorite paper in time of need.

The Herald came out and was delivered and this story is told in order to explain why it was late and in case you did not get yours. The Herald appreciates the loyalty of its thousands of readers and reminds them that it always has been and will continue to be Portsmouth's loyal supporter. The Herald was full of news Monday and if you did not get one step in. It would have done the heart of every man and woman good to see the Herald staff from newswriter to chief of the mechanical force doing their duty.

NEW PATROLMAN APPOINTED BY POLICE BOARD

Consider Names of Two More Applicants; Will Meet the Finance Committee.

The full board of police commissioners held their regular meeting on Monday evening and most of the time was given to the matter of considering the several applicants for the position of patrolman. The board finally decided to appoint Frank H. Demars for a six months probation period to begin his duties on February 1.

The appointee has been connected with police service at the Atlantic shipyard for nearly two years and now fills the place of sergeant in charge of the first night shift from 4 p. m. to 11 p. m. He served ten or twelve years in the army and retired as top sergeant while at Fort Constitution. He is about 32 years of age and resides at 131 Blawie avenue.

The commission discussed the necessity of two more patrolmen at a later date, but no action will be taken until a conference is held with the finance committee of the city council. The police board believes that more men are needed and should be appointed while there is an opportunity of getting good men from waiting list.
